The Site is a former textile mill abandoned in the late 1970s. Insulation and other building materials are suspected to contain asbestos.

Current Activities

Since the last POLREP:

- In April, Public Archaeology Survey Team Inc. of Storrs, subcontractor to the Weston START contract completed historical and photographic documentation at the Glen Falls Worsted Mill (also known as Brunswick Mill and Carvill Mill). - On April 19, 2005, Shaw, MCE and Weston met on site to review and discuss the remaining tasks for the final site restoration activities.

Planned Removal Actions

- Coordinate with the contractors to prepare for re-mobilization on May 16, 2005 to complete the removal action.

Next Steps

- Complete site restoration activities in May 2005.
